At Garlico, Mexico, Canimated Nooz films a few interesting spots in the small time war, which still lingers on, although the natives have ceased to bet on the result. Growing rhubarb pies in Mississippi has been filmed. "How the Infectious Flivver is Made" is the topic of the weekly pictograph. One hundred pounds of bolts, nuts and screws are poured into a concrete mixer and the finished product soon comes forth. Half of the reel is made up of beautiful scenes en and around Lake Tahoe, the beautiful body of water in California's mountains.
